WELCOME TO THE HOME-COMING OF 1927.

We, students and faculty, nine hundred strong, rejoice at your return.

No matter what your field of endeavor or your place of residence, today you belong to our Alma Mater and to us.

We hope the day is fully and truly a Homecoming for you. May familiar places awaken happy memories, association with former friends and new acquaintances bring worthy and lasting enrichment. And as you are carried away with the exhilarating enthusiasm that pervades our gathering, may you detect and understand the underlying spirit of wholesome comradeship and good will.

This Home-coming has a special significance. Today we dedicate our new athletic field. Such a field has been the wish and the need of successive classes for decades. We gratefully acknowledge our indebtedness to all who made the field a reality; to the members of the State Teachers College Board who approved the plan, to our friends in the legislature who obtained the appropriation for the purchase of the site, to the students, alumni, and faculty, who contributed funds for the completion of the field, and especially to that able and loved leader who persevered "until the field was won" and in honor of whom the field is fittingly named.

The J. C. Brown Athletic Field is dedicated today to greater opportunity, to truer sportsmanship, to finer college spirit, to a better Teachers College.

GEO. A. SELKE,
President.
